

amuke:

A woman with an infatuating voice and four guys - quiet and loud, melodic and weird:
that's amuke with their indie sound.

Amuke's music dances
through melancholic landscapes of reflections, wallows in bone-dry sands of a building pit - dynamic arrangements
meet with a fierce performance.

Above the instrumental wing
unit built by Andrej Ditaranto (guitar/keyboards), Dietmar Schmid (guitar/keyboards/backing vocals), Mischa Stiefenhofer (drums) and Adrian Dahinden (bass) floats the bewitching voice of Petra Haas which finally gives the songs its unmistakable and typical amuke touch.
Now and then Dietmar Schmid's singing joins the wild melodic symposium.

Amuke is belly not brain - it's astronaut not eskimo.
A frenzy without a hangover.
